Editorial System

Editorial System

Manuscripts processing and peer review system

Tutorial for Authors

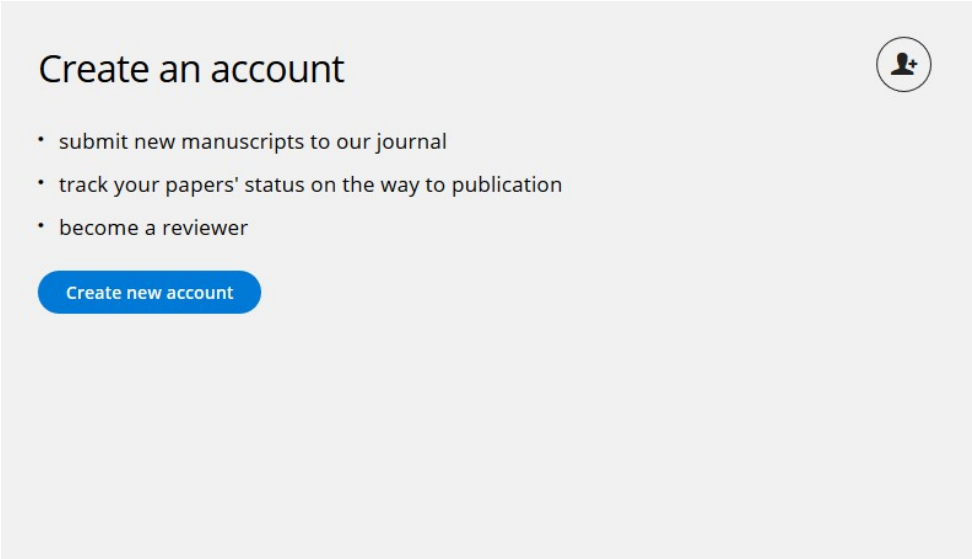

Copyright by Bentus (www.bentus.com)

© Bentus 2020

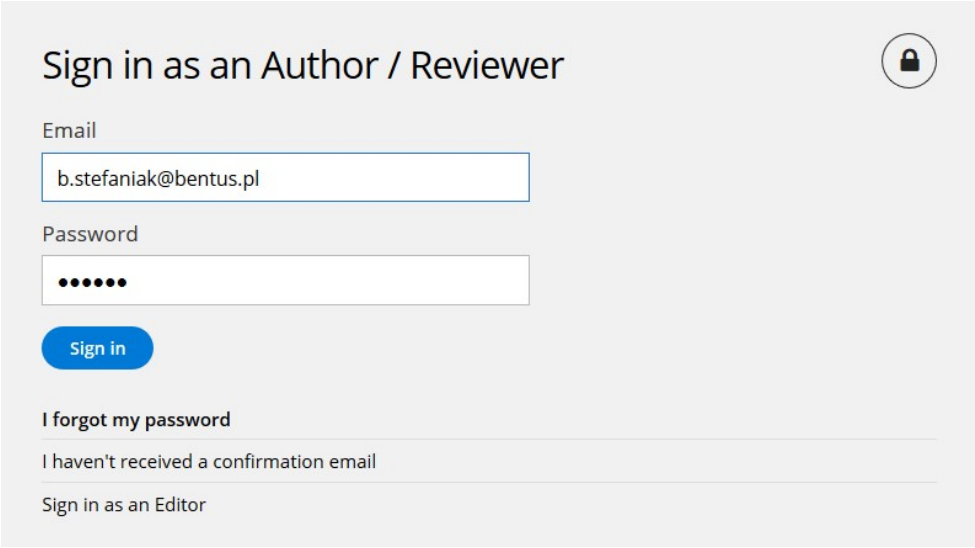

bentus

Editorial System is a web application for scientific manuscripts submission and peer-review.

Before submitting article Author should sign in to the individual account. To create new account go to Create new account:

After creating an account you may sign in:

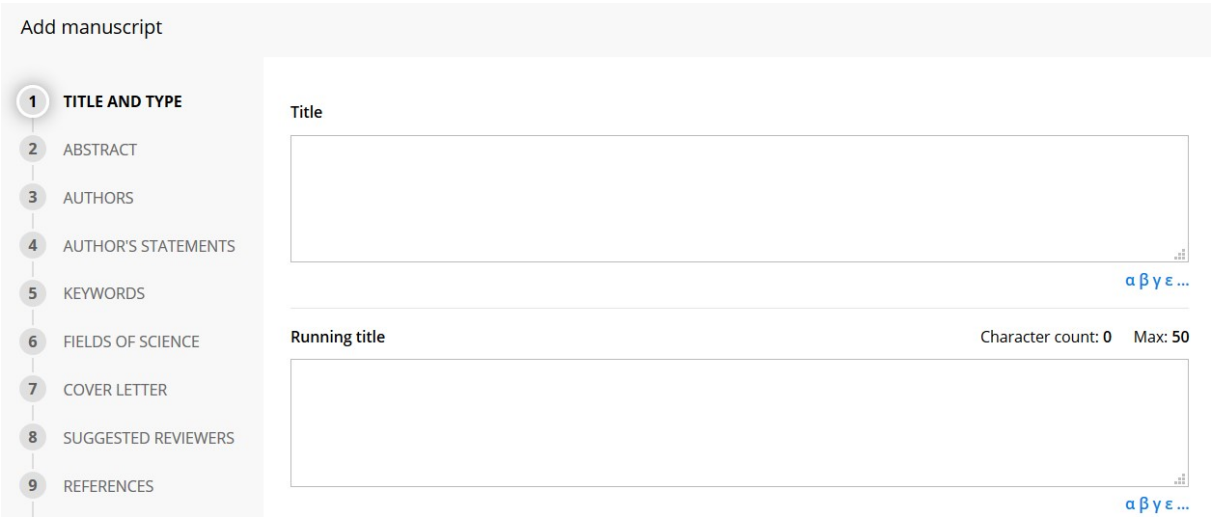

© Bentus 2020

After signing in to user's account, Your Manuscripts area will appear:

Click Submit new manuscript button to proceed. In the first step select the article type and the language (if applicable). Follow the manuscript submission steps and instructions for each step:

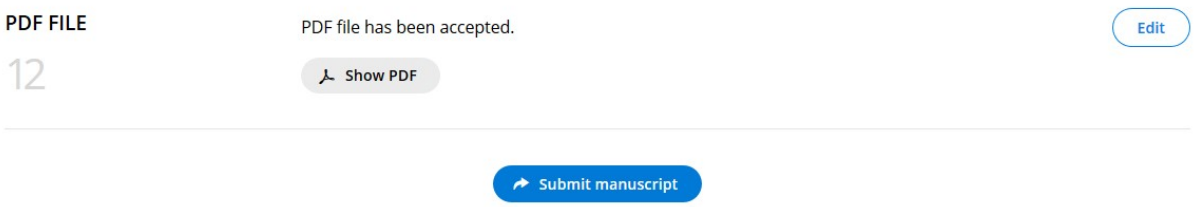

© Bentus 2020

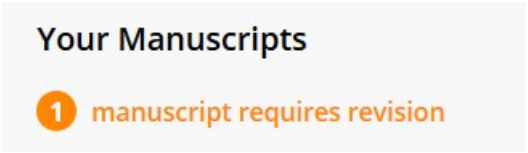

Please note that some fields are limited to a particular minimum and maximum words/signs count. Please provide all necessary information for each step according to the instructions. Most of the submission steps are required – after the particular step is filled in correctly it is marked with a green color:

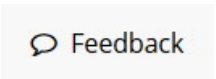

After providing the data for all required fields Submit manuscript screen will appear. This screen is a summary of your article. Verify the data and confirm with Submit manuscript button at the bottom of the screen:

Once you receive the decision to revise your article sign in to your account and click 1 manuscript requires revision:

If you are facing any technical issues during the submission please use the Feedback option available in the footer:

© Bentus 2020